PROBABLE CAUSE STATEMENT

The complainant states that Nancy ALVAREZ-Acha is a citizen of a country other than the United States; that said alien has admitted she is deportable; that her testimony is material; that it is impracticable to secure her attendance at trial by subpoena; and that she is a material witness in relation to this criminal charge and should be held or admitted to bail pursuant to Title 18, United States Code, Section 3144.

On July 10, 2008, at approximately 0130 hours, Saul GARCIA-Alcantar (Defendant) made application for admission into the United States from Mexico via the vehicle primary lanes at the San Ysidro, California Port of Entry. Defendant was the driver and sole visible occupant of a black Mitsubishi Eclipse. Upon inspection before a United States Customs and Border Protection (CBP) Officer, Defendant gave two negative customs declarations, presented his United States Passport and stated he was going to San Diego. The CBP Officer noticed a coconut in the center console and referred Defendant to secondary for further inspection.

In secondary, a CBP Officer was inspecting vehicle when he opened the glove compartment and saw what appeared to be clothing inside the dashboard. The officer pulled on the clothes and found a person concealed within the dashboard. A CBP Officer had to remove two screws from the dashboard and glove box door in order to free an adult female from a non-factory dashboard compartment. The female was determined to be a citizen of Mexico without legal documents to enter the United States and is now identified as: Nancy ALVAREZ-Acha (Material Witness).

During a videotaped interview, Defendant was advised of his Miranda rights. Defendant acknowledged his rights and elected to answer questions without an attorney present. Defendant admitted knowledge there was something concealed in the vehicle and stated he suspected it was either narcotics or an alien. Defendant admitted he purchased the vehicle about one week ago. Defendant admitted he made arrangements to be paid $1,000.00 USD dollars to drive across the border and deliver the vehicle to a gas station near Dairy Mart Road in San Ysidro, California. A DMV Vehicle Registration card recovered from the vehicle identifies Defendant as the registered owner.

During a separate videotaped interview, Material Witness declared she is a citizen of Mexico without legal rights or entitlements to enter the United States. Material Witness stated her friend in Los Angeles, California made arrangements with unknown persons and that she was to pay $3,000 USD to be smuggled into the United States. Material Witness stated she intended to travel to Downey, California.
